In 1874, he was ralieved by his brother Mr Frederick Sessoon, who took over charge of the Hongkong Branch. Deceased was fifty-three years of age.

SPRAKING of the Opium Commission, the Bombay Gazette-says :- The most decisive evidence yet laid before the Commission as to the innocuous character of moderate opinim eating was that given by Mr. McLaughlin Sister, the actuary of the Oriental Life Assurance Company. The Surg. Cap. Beveridge statistics of that important institution. covering a period of twenty years and Opi. Harrison dealing with twenty thousand lives, chiefly native, showed that two per cent, of the whole are opium esters. On the advice of the medical officers it has been decided to sbolish as uppecessary the small additional percentage hitherto imposed on these latter. Mr Pease struck in with the remark that two per cent, on twenty thousand gave four hundred opium-esters, and he saked how many of these had died. The answer was 'None.' Representative as he is of the anti-opinm movement. Mr Pease could not believe his ears; he thought there must be some mistake, and asked what was the mortality among the two per cent. of opium-enters? Mr Sister repeated that none of them had died. How can you explain that? asked Mr spoon. Sergt. Major Liddle, Lieut. Ho-Pease. To which the answer was that well, and Lieut, Helps won a spoon each. opium taken in moderation is not injurious. The following are the scores :--to natives of India, but rather beneficial. That was the lesson of the statistics of Assurance Companies, and it confirmed the opinion of the medical man who recommended that special rates for such lives should Bot be imposed. Lord Brassey acknowladged the force and value of this evidence. which is manifestly decisive on the main question at issue—the noxidusness or otherwise of opium taken in moderation.
